CT/RI COASTAL FLY FISHERS

The better saltwater fly fishing anglers are often the product of good preparation and the subtotal of many successful angling experiences. What better way to learn or improve your skills than thru the association and shared knowledge of others that share your passion for this sport.

CT/RI COASTAL FLY FISHERS HELPS YOU BECOME THE BEST SALTWATER FLY FISHER YOU CAN BE.

As a paid member you will know that this is accomplished in many ways.

The club has monthly meetings on the last Thursday of the month at the Groton Elks Club. Meetings start with a few members giving fly tying demonstrations at 6:30 pm. At about 7:15 we typically have a slide presentation about some aspect of saltwater fly-fishing that is entertaining and informative.

Membership includes 9 newsletters each year that have articles on club business, upcoming events, fishing information and what is happening in the environmental area.

CT/RI has an active email list; where members post fishing reports and you can learn in "reel" time which spots have fish and which spots don't. You can also ask any questions you may have on the sport, fresh or saltwater and many people with multiple years of experience will assist you. If you want to try a new area you can sometimes find a fishing partner via email. We also learn about important fisheries issues through our email list.

CT/RI also tries to have an outing of some sort each month during the fishing season. Members meet to fish a specific area; it is a great way to learn techniques and access points and to meet others that share your interests. Outings have included Napatree Point, Quonny Pond in RI and an outing where some members can be ferried over to Sandy Point and back for night fishing.

Our Annual Club Picnic, held behind the Groton Elks Club is scheduled during August each year and has been attended by some of the biggest names in the fly fishing world, Lefty Kreh, Bob Popovics, Ed Jaworowski, and Bob Clouser.

The Holiday Party along with the annual Picnic includes several types of raffles and silent auctions. There are tons of items you can win for $1 raffle (at least 90% are fly fishing related items and include some charter trips). You can also win flies donated by some of the best tiers around, our own members. At these two events you will get all the food you can eat, meet many of the members, talk about fishing, and learn as much as you like. Bring a small note pad so you don't forget new spots and techniques.

As a member you get all this with your yearly dues which are less than the cost of a fishing magazine subscription where you can't get local information or "hands on" help. Yearly dues are currently only $25
